Before You Register

1. Choose Your Workshops

Take a look through the 2027 workshop offerings before beginning registration and note the workshops you want to attend.

You'll make your workshop selections as part of the registration process, so it helps to have your choices ready before you begin.

2. Choose Your Triad of Talks Conversation

On Thursday afternoon, January 28, APCE is offering a special Triad of Talks: three one-hour conversations happening at the same time.

You'll choose one:

Indigenous Christianity and Pedagogy

The Bible Project

AI and Christian Education

Be sure to decide which Triad of Talks conversation you want to attend before you register.

3. Decide Whether You Want to Arrive Early

There is a lot happening before the Annual Event officially begins on Wednesday, January 27.

Pre-event options include tours, retreats, learning opportunities, the Biblical Interpretation Certification Course, and APCE's new Children/Family Faith Formation Micro-Credential.

If you plan to participate in the Children/Family Faith Formation Micro-Credential in person, remember that the required core class is:

Tuesday, January 26

10:00 AM–6:00 PM

That means you'll need to arrive in Portland early.

4. Consider the Biblical Interpretation Certification Course

The Educator Certification Course: Biblical Interpretation takes place January 25–27 in Portland and online.

It is not only for PC(USA) educators seeking certification. The course is also open to Moravian educators pursuing certification, pastors and preachers wanting a refresher, Christian educators, volunteers, chaplains, ministry leaders, and anyone who wants to deepen their biblical interpretation skills.
